Selectmen's Meeting

JANUARY 22, 1985 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL
WORK ON HOUSE IN FLOOD PLAIN ZONE
ORDERED HALTED

Building Inspector David Crooks, homeowners Mr. and Mrs. James Gardiner, realtor Randy Smith, Attorney Joseph Perry and persons who helped the Gardiners met with Selectmen last Tuesday to discuss problems with the Gardiner's house.

The Gardiner house is located at 2 Centre Drive in the Harbor Beach section and in the flood plain zone. Crooks halted further work on the second floor the Gardiners were building because they were not conforming with the original building permit and it was not conforming to flood zone plain management regulations.

Crooks told the Gardiners they could have saved a lot of money and problems if they had hired a structural engineer to design the proposed addition of a second floor to the small house they had inherited. He said the engineer could have determined quickly that the walls could not support a second floor.

Additionally, Crooks said that if the former building inspector, Scott Armbruster, had known that the plans submitted to him were falsely represented, he would not have granted a building permit in the first place. Manuel Martin, a contractor working on the Gardiner house, admitted there was an error "in the collation of the blueprints and that the plans that were signed by an engineer were not the proper ones".

Mrs. Gardiner said she inherited the 30-year old single family house and she and her husband decided to build a second floor for bedrooms for their family of four children. She said they were doing much of the work themselves in an effort to save money. She was visibly upset when she heard they were going to have to start at square one and engage an engineer to build the house up to conform to flood plain zone rules.

Randy Smith said he appraised the house before improvements at $60,000 - and after improvements - $84,000. The Building Inspector explained that if the Gardiners keep the improvements at less than 50 percent of the insured valuation, they would not be required to conform to the flood plain regulations ($60,000 plus $30,000 improvement). They are now at $24,000 and cannot do much more for $6,000, estimated Crooks.

Crooks said as it stands now with Flood Plain Management they say the house has to be removed or elevated to 14 feet to conform. The Gardiner's flood plain insurance has been cancelled. Crooks added that the management is concerned because if there is a storm and the Gardiner house breaks up it could cause damage to other houses that do have insurance. He said, "They can't pound a nail until I see new plans. Also, I want to see the license numbers of Martin and the other carpenters who worked on the construction." Charles Kelley, who was present, had helped the Gardiners but was not a carpenter by trade. Kelley noted that work done on the house roof in 1970 left the supports weak. However, this was not found out until this new project began, Kelley said.

Selectman James F. Huntoon said, "We realize you aren't devious, just an honest mistake. Everything has to start at step one and work with the building inspector and the flood ners have made mistakes but that they would work closely with the building inspector to do things correctly.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH John Folino, who operates a business in the Industrial Park, and Robert Gignras, developer of the Industrial Park, to discuss the "snakey" roadway leading to the Park. Selectmen had called the meeting in response to Folino's previous session with the Board when he expressed his concern of the dangerous curve for large trucks.

The Planning Board and the Industrial Commission were invited to the meeting. Dr. Clayton King, chairman of the Industrial Commission, said in response to a phoned question after the meeting, that there was an illness in his family and he could not attend. The second member, Clarence Fountain, was unavailable. Peter Perkins, chairman of the Planning Board, said he was called out for plumbing emergencies on that cold night, and was unable to contact other members.

Conclusions of the session suggested by the board included to go to the state and ask them to conduct a survey of the roadway. In the survey, ask the state to anticipate future usage of the road (300 persons working there now; conceivably 100 more if development is increased); outline the problems and send a copy to Senator William

Count on Us When You're Ready To Buy or Sell

When you're selecting a real estate company to help you buy or sell a home, the most important feature to look for is service. Most real estate firms can list your present home, show you new homes, and help you fill out the loan application. But we're the only firm in this area that's affiliated with Homes for All America™, and that difference can make a big difference to you.

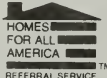

As a member of Homes for All America, we're part of a national network of hundreds of real estate firms across the country — and we are the only firm in this area affiliated with Better Homes and Gardens® Real Estate Service.

AND RE-ENTRY SCHOLARSHIPS

For the second year in a row the MMR Tri-Town "Dollars for Scholars" Program will be awarding continuing education and re-entry scholarships. Any resident of Marion, Mattapoissett, or Rochester presently enrolled in a post-secondary program may apply for a scholarship for the 1985-86 academic year. In addition, any tri-town resident planning to re-enter a post-secondary program after an absence may apply for the re-entry award. Last year MMR awarded eight continuing education scholarships and one re-entry scholarship.

Scholarship applications are available in the town halls of Marion, Mattapoissett and Rochester. Applications are also available

Thank You

Friends of Old Rochester Music (F.O.R.M.) would like to thank everyone involved who helped make the Third Annual Gong Show held Saturday evening, January 19th, such a success. In particular, we would like to thank the thirteen acts who participated, the judges: David Hughes, Michael Cambra and Barbara Dakin of Rochester; and Elaine Sylvia and Carol Adams of Mattapoisett; the Stage Crew headed by Brad Anselmo; and the Master of Ceremonies, Ken Pease. We look forward to an even better show next year.

The discussions will be based on Septemantic Training for Effective Parenting of Teens (Step/Teen) which is a sequel to STEP-the most widely used parent education program in the country. Step/Teen encourages mutual respect between parents and teens. It leads to cooperation, more effective communication and a more responsible, self-reliant attitude among teenagers.

Parents who have participated in STEP groups found the program beneficial for many reasons: it provided an opportunity to share experiences and learn from others, allowed parents to get in touch with their feelings and their child's, showed different ways to handle persistent problems and even helped improve participants' relationships with other people.

If you are interested in participating, please contact Leonard Gonsalves, Director of Chapter I at Old Rochester Regional Junior High School (758-4928).

Message to Muggers

Editorial, DCJ

Where the police are unable to protect the citizen in public and the courts are unable to provide an appropriate deterrent to crime, then the people in the form of a Grand Jury will take no action against an individual who defends himself.

This is no ideal situation. This is not a civilized response. This is simply a practical matter until such time as government resumes its responsibility. That is Something to Crow about – the Start of our 8th Season!

Hello again, Friends!

We're open ... vacation is over (we had a nice time, thank you) and now we're looking forward to our eighth year with you at The Mattapoissett Inn.

Happy to say, we are open 7 days a week for Lunch and Dinner with new items on the menu ... even on vacation, Marlene is a worker ... and, of course, the Lounge is open with entertainment nightly. We hope you'll join us for the warm and friendly atmosphere you'll continue to find at the Inn.

Your friends in fair weather and foul,
Marc and Marlene

the message to the thugs of New York by a Grand Jury who as individuals walk the same streets and ride the same dirty, defaced subway system as the so-called subway vigilante.

For a couple of decades, the idealists have refused to admit that there is any such thing as a bad boy. There is simply a neglected person in need of understanding and guidance. They, these idealists, have weighted the rights guaranteed by the Constitution heavily in favor of the predators of the streets. In this short time, those streets of the cities have truly become unsafe jungles. This fact probably accounts for the overwhelming popularity of TV drama featuring police. The living room is the sole place where the barricaded city dweller can watch actors in the uniform of police riding pell mell to the rescue of the populace and doing it successfully. This is the dream on the lighted tube.

Reality is just outside the chained door. Who among this group is not going to applaud the decision of the New York Grand Jury that self-defense is the sole resource of a citizen who is cut off from the protection of the proper authorities, locked in a dirty metal box decorated with graffiti hailed as "art" by the same idealists who see no evil.

There is no solution in sight but perhaps the pendulum has approached the zenith of its swing.

LIBRARY COMMENT by PAUL MYERS

Libraries are not only places where people go to borrow books. They are also places where people may go to sit down in quiet, comfortable surroundings and read from a worthy and varied collection of papers and periodicals. Recently the Mattapoissett Library added to its collection a trial subscription to "THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR". How many people will stop by and read it is the question. Probably most people do not know it is there to read.

The Monitor long ago evolved into a truly great international daily newspaper. It is known throughout the world as a paper that endeavors to treat the happenings of the day with depth and perspective, "the news behind the news" presented with informed understanding and a high standard of ex-

Chess Team

The ORR Chess Team rolled to its fifth consecutive victory on January 21 by once again defeating Bishop Stang by a 5-0 shut-out. Each match is made up of five separate games with ORR winning 24 of 25 games so far this year. ORR has yet to be tested this year and hopes to complete its third consecutive undefeated season. Winning for ORR were: Bill Smirnov (captain), Jeff Starecheski, Tom Shire, Aaron Sylvia and Erik Sylvia.

According to Mr. Cameron, advisor, "We wish there was some better competition in south-eastern Massachusetts, but few schools sponsor chess competition in this area. It actually hurts our team when we compete at

Tobey Hospital Blood Bank

A new location and time has been announced for the Tobey Hospital Blood Bank. Beginning in January, the Blood Bank will be held on the second Tuesday of each month from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Rehabilitation Department, located on the ground floor of the Hospital. As in the past, no appointment is necessary on the scheduled Tuesday evenings, and for the convenience of our donors, appointments will be taken Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The changed schedule has come about in an effort to contain costs while maintaining the Community Blood Bank. For thirty years we have met the needs for replenishing blood at Tobey and elsewhere through the American Association of Blood Banks, of which Tobey is a member. The faithful citizens who have donated blood on a regular basis include employees of area businesses, local Police and Fire Departments, and countless other residents from our community.

Tobey sincerely thanks all who have unselfishly donated to meet our blood supply needs and invites all persons, ages 18-65

Children's Museum

WHAT IF YOU COULDN'T.....?

What if you couldn't walk? What if you couldn't see very well? What if you had problems with your feelings or learning to read? "WHAT IF YOU COULDN'T..." is a participatory exhibit creating an environment in which the non-disabled public can learn more about handicapping conditions and explore some of their feelings about these disabilities. It opens at the Children's Museum in Dartmouth on Saturday, February 2.

The exhibit is divided into six areas of exploration: visual impairments, auditory impairments, physical handicaps, learning disabilities, emotional disturbances and mental retardation. Each area provides information through special graphics and text designed and written for children and adults, simulations such as a wheelchair and a variety of surface coverings, a blind walk, try-on prosthetic devices and role playing suggestions.

"WHAT IF YOU COULDN'T..." was developed by the Boston Children's Museum with funds from the National Endowment for the Arts and is being circulated nationally by the Museum. The exhibit's goal is to promote an improved understanding of, and a better attitude toward people with disabilities. During the five years the exhibit was at the Boston Children's Museum it received an overwhelmingly positive response from visitors. In fact, the Museum noted that when it was replaced with another exhibit, it was one of the few times they received mail and calls wondering when it would return.

The Children's Museum invites your participation in this show which will be here through April 1.

The Children's Museum is funded in part by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and

Renaissance Awards

Five businesses have received Plymouth County's semi-annual Renaissance Award for achievement in the rehabilitation and revitalization of commercial and industrial properties. The structures cited for this distinction include a professional building, an antique shop, a hotel, a donut shop and a condominium complex.

The Renaissance Award winners were announced recently by the Plymouth County Commissioners. Local winners are Marion Road Associates, developer of the Wareham Professional Building in Wareham and Joan and Lawrence Plaud, owners of the Curiosity Shoppe in Marion.

The Curiosity Shoppe, located at 374 Front Street in Marion, is in a large structure recently renovated by Joan and Lawrence Plaud, owners of the antique and home furnishings store. Erected in 1850, the building had been used as a schoolhouse and later as a general store. It was vacant for more than 50 years before the Plauds purchased it.

Although considerable restoration work was needed, the rustic qualities of the building still remain, including some of the original stock and showcases. New electrical, plumbing and heating systems were added. The building's second floor is being converted into an apartment, which will be used by the owners. The Plaud's son, Howard, a local builder, did most of the work.

converted into the new Wareham Professional Building on the corner of Route 6 and High Street in Wareham. Developer John Folino heads up a group of 10 partners, called Marion Road Associates, who purchased the property and began renovations to the dilapidated structure last year. The 11-suite medical complex includes a radiology laboratory, clinic, pharmacy and offices for physicians.

The building, which once housed a car dealership and fire engine museum, required extensive rehabilitation. The basic structure was sound but many items required replacing, including the roof, walls and windows. A new heating and electrical system was also installed. General contractor for the $1 million project was Cape Building Systems, which is owned by Folino.

Other winners were Elaine and Albert Nardo, owners of the Atlantic Inn in Hull; Frank Falanga, owner of Frank's Donut Shop in Brockton; and Parencorp, developers of Dream-world condominiums in Scituate.

The next Renaissance Award winners will be announced in June. Anyone wishing to nominate a Plymouth County firm or individual for Renaissance Award recognition should contact Brooks Kelly, Executive Director, Plymouth County Development Council, P.O. "Famous Fathers"

Can a man be a successful professional and a successful father at the same time?

This is just one of the questions addressed in the film series, FAMOUS FATHERS, to be presented by Long Plain Baptist Church on Saturday, February 9, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Subtitled "How to Become Famous with Your Kids", the FAMOUS FATHERS series features home interviews with six well-known Christian men who are just as committed to their children as they are to their careers.

The six men include Josh McDowell, author and speaker; Bill Gaither, Christian musician; Dr. Kenneth Cooper, jogging and aerobics expert; Stan Smith, tennis pro; Noel Paul Stookey, singer/songwriter; and Rosey Grier, football pro.

Each of these men candidly shares his personal experiences as they relate to four different parenting issues: enjoying the fatherhood adventure, taking the job seriously, nurturing spiritual growth, and es-
